

Gerard Batten Appoints New Spokespersons

The UKIP Leader commented:

"I am pleased to publish the list of my Spokespersons. Some names remain in place from the previous Leader, and there are some new ones. In particular David Moreland as the Home Affairs, Immigration, Police and Criminal Justice Spokesman. David is a former Metropolitan Police Officer who brings twenty years of first-hand experience to his new role."

"Professor Stephen Bush is my new Spokesman on Industry. Prof Bush is Emeritus Professor of Process Manufacture and Polymer Engineering at the University of Manchester and has a wide experience of working in industry."

"Professor Bush will in due course publish his proposals for how we can bring the manufacturing industry back to the UK, in particular to those parts of the UK that need industry and jobs to revitalise their local economies."
