

Steadfast Plymouth Brexiteers Haul 1359 Votes

To Keep UKIP Flag Flying

SEVEN UKIP Brexiteers fought city council election seats in Plymouth [Thursday 3rd May] bagging 1359 votes and keeping the UKIP flag flying on the Devon south coast.

Candidates John Baddeley, John Smith, Richard Ellison, Wendy Noble, Alan Skuse, Ivor Lucas and Michael Arthur proved excellent representatives for the party, and despite challenging odds, six of the seven finished in third place.

UKIP Plymouth, having won three seats in 2014, was placed in an unenviable position of having to contend seats against three defectors to the Conservatives, of which one, Maddie Bridgeman retained her position. However, thanks to the goodwill of Thursday's UKIP candidates, the party locally is placed back on an even keel, ready to build again for future endeavours.
